Captain Richard "Red" Hamilton led the Viking pack with 16 points with Lloyd Failing counting 13. Two school records were cracked as Failing navigated the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds to break the school mark of 11 seconds flat made by Ernie Parsons in 1949. Tom Gibbons broke Jack Richardson's mark of 1949 in the 220 yard dash as he turned in a flat 22 seconds against the former mark of 23.5.

The Viking 880 yard medley relay team were easy victors in 2 minutes 56.3 seconds as the Ironmen ran the event in 3 minutes and 8 seconds. The Viking team was disqualified in the relay however as they ran out of the baton exchange zone.

Hamilton took the high hurdles and the high jump. Steve Jorgensen was the winner of the mile while Mike Gibbons took the quarter mile. Frank Ludman won the 160 yard hurdles with Failing taking the pole vault.

The Viking medley relay team of Tom and Mike Gibbons, Lloyd Failing and John Ludman placed first in their heat and third in the meet at a time of 2 minutes 44.8 seconds. Ludman broke the school record of Terry Hilton's set in 1951 for the 180 yard low hurdles in 22.5 seconds. Failing led for first in the pole vault at 10 feet with Gary Parkinson taking fifth. Steve Jorgensen placed third in his heat in the mile and fifth in the entire meet with the time of 4 minutes 56.8 seconds, only one second off the school record.

Grayling Gains Firm, Building

A new building is under construction in Grayling where a new business will begin operation about June 1.

The business is the Hendershot Supply Company and the building is a wholesale building material warehouse for the express purpose of selling to building material dealers only, thus bringing a closer source of supply to such accounts in northern and upper Michigan.

Location of the building is to be South East of Grayling, next to the Grayling Lumber and Supply Company. It is being built by Jack Millikin. It will be 50 feet wide and 180 feet long and will accommodate unloading of rail cars as well as trucks. The building was designed with a truss-type roof giving no obstructions to the 9,000 square feet of floor space. This was done for the eventual use of mechanical unloading equipment.

A large stock of all the products manufactured by the United States Gypsum Company will be maintained for pickup service in the new building. A few of the products to be handled are as follows: Plaster, Lime, Rocklath, Sheet-rock, Metal Roofing, Asbestos Siding, Insulation siding, Insulation wool and Insulation board.

Two warehouse employees and the owner, Mr. Thane Hendershot will be the starting nucleus. The company is owned by Mr. Hendershot, who for the past seven years has been employed by the United States Gypsum Company. The last two years of this time was in the capacity of District Product Manager for Western Michigan.

Prior to that time Mr. Hendershot was a salesman for the company and made his home here with his family. Mrs. Hendershot is the former Natalie Peterson daughter of the Adolph Petersons of Grayling.

The speaker started with the coming of the Jesuits to Michigan and covered the history of the state to the present day. He dwelt at length on the lumbering days in and around Grayling. Using an autobiography of David Ward, he traced the life of this most famous lumbering figure who operated in the county prior to the turn of the century.

19 Children Receive First Holy Communion

Nineteen children of St. Mary's parish received their first holy communion Sunday in ceremonies held at the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. Mary's church. These ten girls and nine boys have been studying to prepare themselves for this step in their lives, since they first started to school at St. Mary's.

The girls in their white dresses veils and accessories and the boys in navy trousers and tie and white blouses, entered and left the church in a procession led by eleven altar boys, one of whom bore the cross and six others whom were torch bearers, while the organist played "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." Pink and white flowers decorated the altars and the pews occupied by the children were marked with white satin ribbon bows.

A first communion service is always a very impressive one in the catholic church.

Crowning of Mary Ceremony

Next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church the entire school will participate in the crowning of Our Lady's statue, in honor of the Blessed Mother, Queen of the May.

Thomas Galvani, seventh grade pupil will do the crowning and will have for his guard of honor seventh grade boys. Several of the children will form a "living rosary" as a part of the ceremony, that is each one will recite a prayer or a part of the rosary. The first communicants of Sunday will also be taking a part.

All the children of the school will march in a procession from the school and into the church. This is the second such ceremony held here since St. Mary's School opened.

Sportsmen Seek New Members

At the recent meeting of the Grayling Sportsmen Club a number of matters came before the membership for consideration.

It was decided that the Sportsmen Club would cooperate with the Conservation Department and the local Boy Scouts in the campaign to clean up and preserve the natural beauty of the AuSable River.

The AuSable River Guides Association at a recent meeting voted to give this project financial aid and also to assist in the work by providing manpower when it is needed.

It was proposed that at future meetings of the Sportsmen Club that some entertainment should be provided and the committee suggested that movies of interest to all sportsmen be shown.

Alex Atkinson, chairman of the membership committee reported that the total membership now exceeds 200 and it is the hope of the officers of the club that at some future date the membership shall reach a total of 500. With this area being the capital of outdoor sports activities in Northern Michigan the goal of 500 members should not be hard to achieve.

The next meeting of the club will be at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, May 19th at the club house on Ingham Street. All members as well as the public in general are urged to attend this and all other meetings.

Band To Attend May Festival

The G. H. S. Band will go to Cheboygan on May 5th to take part in the annual May Festival.

We are ninth on the program, preceded by Cheboygan, Onaway Mackinaw City, Pellston, Alanson, Harbor Springs and followed by Mancelona and Charlevoix 6th grade.

At this festival we first perform on a stage playing two numbers. The Thunderer by J. P. Sousa and American Patriot by F. W. Meacham. After each band has played and we have eaten our lunch there is a parade with each band taking part, plus everything that goes to make up a parade.

Just as soon as we arrive back to the school from the parade there is mass band practice, all the bands combined into one under the director and in the evening there is a concert given.

Quite a day? We think so and are looking forward to going and taking part — Wanda Yoder.

"Laugh for Fun-ds"

Late for Sunday school, Billy Joseph stood up before the class to explain the reason for his tardiness. "I tried to go fishing," he said. "But daddy wouldn't let me."
"You're lucky to have a father like that," replied the Sun day school teacher. "Did he tell you why you shouldn't go fishing this morning?" "Yes ma'am," replied Billy. "He said there wasn't enough bait for both of us."

The Right to "Shop Around"

In any kind of an economy, producers and distributors want to get the best possible price for what they have to sell and consumers want to pay the lowest possible price. That is simply human nature. These conflicting desires strike the fairest possible balance in a free market economy such as ours, as compared with economies which are dominated by governmental or private monopolies, cartels and controls. For in a free market everyone concerned is always competing with everyone else.

As an example, take meat—something which practically all of us consume every day.

When the farmer goes to market with his livestock he naturally wants the top price. But he is competing with all other livestock producers, and if he demands a price which is out of line he won't make a sale.

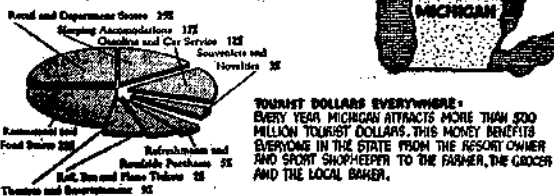

The meat packer who buys and processes the animals wants to sell at the peak price too. But there are 4,000 of these packers along with 14,000 other commercial slaughterers, who not only must compete for the available meat supply, but must compete for customers for the finished product. These customers are retailers, who are after meat at the lowest price they can find. So, again, competition holds the price to a reasonable level.

Finally, the housewife goes marketing for meat—and her keen eyes are looking for maximum return for her dollar. And that is the brake on what the retailer can charge—if he doesn't meet the competition his customers will vanish with devastating quickness.

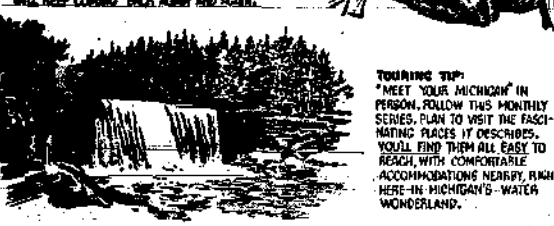

What comes of all this? The answer is that the free market has proven, beyond argument that it can provide higher living standards for more people than any other economic system that exists. It protects the right of consumers to "shop around."

Straits Area Plans Big Day

St. Ignace, Mich.—Folks here in the Straits area, where engineers are preparing to begin work on the world's greatest bridge—a $100,000,000 span across the Straits of Mackinac—are themselves preparing for a two-day celebration befitting the occasion.

The two-day affair, scheduled for Friday, May 7 in St. Ignace, and Saturday, May 8, in Mackinaw City, is expected to draw from 35,000 to 50,000 persons, and seems certain to focus international attention on the four-mile wide waterway, linking Lakes Michigan and Huron, which man has wanted to bridge for three quarters of a century.

Sponsored jointly by business and governmental agencies on both sides of the Straits, the commemorative program is in charge of a 12 man inter-peninsula committee drawn from St. Ignace, Mackinaw City, Sault Ste. Marie, Cheboygan, Cedarville, Rogers City, Newberry, Petoskey, Manistique, Gaylord and Mackinac Island. Two co-chairmen, Alexander G. Phillips, of St. Ignace, and Charles LeFaire, of Cheboygan, head up the bi-peninsula group.

Amid a backdrop of gaily decorated streets, street dances, colorful parades, speeches by visiting notables, public dinners, and spectacular fireworks displays on both sides of the waterway, will be two "groundbreaking" ceremonies—one in St. Ignace on May 7 and another in Mackinaw City on May 8.

Mrs. Prentiss M. Brown, wife of the chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, state agency for which the world's greatest man-made structure is being erected, will "turn the first sod" in St. Ignace, while Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., wife of the Detroit banker who also is a member of the Authority, will repeat the performance in Mackinaw City on Saturday.

A silver shovel for the St. Ignace groundbreaking will be handed Mrs. Brown by Mrs. Grover C. Denny, wife of the Merritt, Chapman & Scott project manager, who is in charge of building the bridge's submarine structures.

Mrs. Nancy Williams, wife of Michigan's Governor, G. Mennen Williams, will be in charge of assembling documents and symbolic articles—iron ore from the Upper Peninsula and a miniature automobile from the Lower—for deposit in a cornerstone of the bridge's administration building.

Phillips, chairman of the U. P. division of the bi-peninsula committee, outlined plans for the mammoth commemorating celebration during a meeting of his group in the St. Ignace Council Chamber here Friday evening—a meeting which was attended by Lawrence Rubin, secretary of the Bridge Authority, Herbert Goodkind, representing Dr. D. B. Steinman, internationally known designer of the history-making span, Jack Kinney, also with the Dr. Steinman organization, Grover C. Denny, and C. G. Knoblock, vice president and general manager of Drummond Dolomite Incorporated, Drummond Island, Mich.

All units in the big parade, a central figure of the celebration, wherever from, will participate on both sides of the Straits. Phillips said a total of 75 school bands have been invited to take part.

Speakers during the two day affair will include Authority Chairman Brown, Governor Williams, Dr. Steinman, and other notables.

Zabel, of Round Lake and St. Petersburg, Fla., and the late Mr. Zabel. They plan to be married July 3rd in St. James Methodist Church, Detroit.

Fire Department Presents Films

The Grayling Fire Department presented a program of four films at the Grayling High School last week Tuesday night. A rather small turnout was welcomed by Fire Chief Middle LaMotte who in turn introduced Air Force Sgt. Harry Mossalt of the Grand Rapids Filter Center who ran the projector for the four films.

The films shown in order were: "Train We Must," "Fire and You," "Hospital," "One Plane, One Bomb," and "Before the Alarm." The first film depicted the necessary training procedure for volunteer fire departments while the second pointed out the hazards for a blaze in hospitals throughout the country and the steps to be taken to overcome them. The third film narrated by Edward R. Morrow, famous radio news commentator showed a flight of three B-29's from airbases in England to a simulated attack on New York City. The film depicted the work of filter centers, plane spotters, interceptor squadrons and anti-aircraft batteries. The fourth film showed the necessary steps that a municipality must take to insure fire protection through the department, water supply and strict laws for building and their construction.

The Grayling department plans to bring another group of films to Grayling later this year, Chief LaMotte said.

St. Mary's Ladies Enjoy Spaghetti Dinner

Some 65 ladies enjoyed a spaghetti dinner at the meeting of St. Mary's Altar Society at St. Mary's hall, Tuesday evening of last week. The dinner was planned as a "get acquainted" affair for several new members, and was sponsored by the Membership committee, assisted by officers of the Society.

William Lenkowski had volunteered as chef and Irving McLesac and Bernard Hall as waiters and they really did a fine job as everything was piping hot and very delicious. The ladies of course had a hand in arranging the tables and decorating them. Blue and yellow crepe paper streamers were stretched across the center of the tables and low bowls of daffodils and huckleberry vine centered each one.

After dinner Fr. John A. Brientein who had welcomed the ladies and thanked those responsible for the fine gathering, Grover T. Cox was introduced and told some of his clever stories and Mrs. LeRoy Christian read a story entitled "God and the Kitchen," both of which were much enjoyed.

The Altar Society serves the purpose of a P. T. A. for St. Mary's school, and at this meeting the 5th, 6th and 7th grades received the $5.00 prize for having the most mothers present. The money is to be used to buy library books.

Following the short business meeting the remainder of the evening was spent playing Bounce with Mrs. Bertha Peterson and Mrs. Clara Leitz winning the prizes.

The evening ended with more coffee and cake, which was the surplus dessert left from the dinner, and there was community singing with Nancy Cox accompanying.

Margaret Halsey, author, and her daughter, Deborah. Below: Margaret Halsey (Mrs. Milton Stern) discusses letting children share in normal family problems as a way of helping them to face life realistically.

Speaking of Families

By BETH JUDSON

You'd like Margaret Halsey. You'd admire the way she sorts the important from the unimportant in this business of living. Possibly you've detected this from her books. In WITH MALICE TOWARD SOME, perhaps, which first zoomed her to fame.

Or her newest, thought-provoking THE FOLKS AT HOME.

But Margaret Halsey puts her sound sense of values to work in rearing her 4-year-old daughter, Deborah, as well.

"Too many Americans are unhappy," Margaret Halsey (Mrs. Milton Stern) reasoned, "because they have an over-optimistic viewpoint of life. They think of it as they expect it to be instead of the way it is."

"Actually, sorrows and heartaches and conflicts and worries—all these are part of life. The sooner a child realizes this, the better able she'll be to stand up to life's punches later on."

That, then, is why the Sterns do not shield Debby from normal family anxieties. Instead, they make a point of sharing them—within bounds of common sense, of course.

Whether it's a financial problem

... a tension among relatives ... a business disappointment ... irritability from overpressure of work ... or even death—Debby is never completely shut out. Thus she gets a taste of life as she will find it later on.

But Margaret Halsey is careful not to overwhelm Debby by telling her more than she can understand. Nor does she get emotional that her daughter, too, becomes upset. She simply explains what's happened clearly and honestly—at the child's level.

And the Sterns never shield Debby of their anxieties because they expect something from her. They don't say, "We're upset and we want you to be quiet today." What she gets is an explanation—pure and simple.

As a result of these problem sharing experiences, Margaret Halsey hopes Debby will be able to face life realistically—a happier and more secure adult. She says—

"The better a child understands what real life is like, the better able she'll be to take the stresses and strains later on."

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Craw-acres more or less. This land fronts on M-72 East and the County Road that leads to the

of our tourists and summer residents are among our best summer readers. They find it gratifying to find reading in the Crawford County Library on subjects they are interested in, as well as books that entertain.

The Libraries of Michigan are among the group to spread the gospel of good will and friendship. I refer to the one and one half million children in our private parochial and public schools and more than 100,000 students in various colleges in the state that we provide the opportunity to find books on subjects they are interested in.

When books asked for are not in the library, we can borrow them from the Michigan State Library in about three days. The Michigan State Library is one of the nations outstanding State Libraries. Our State Librarian has promoted library work that has been copied by other states. Mrs.
Loleta D. Fyan, State Librarian, always has the interest of people and libraries in mind.

Let us think of libraries in "Michigan Week" as educational as well as schools. "If anyone would make me the greatest king that ever lived" wrote Lord Macaulay "with palaces and gardens and fine dinners and wines and coaches and hundreds of servants, on condition that I would not read books, I would not be a king.
I would rather be a poor man in a garret with plenty of books than a king who did not love reading."

In a very real sense we do not live by bread, but by books. For to live is to progress. Without books we are but barbarians. It is by the written word that man has lifted himself far above brute creation. There are books on religion, art, music, history, as well as fiction, hobbies and others.
Yet, in the light of this assertion it is rather startling to learn that,
according to book manufacturers Institute, 27% of all American homes have less than 50 books, and more than a third have no bookcases. This despite the fact that books are our oldest cultural aid. To add a library to a house is to give a house a soul.

Let us hasten to add, however,
that the mere presence of books
in a home is not in itself a guarantee of culture. It is not the possession of books—but the knowledge of their contents that enriches us.

Let us think of libraries being for all people 3 to 99. We wish to stress libraries as of great importance this MICHIGAN WEEK.
It is libraries and librarians that have the materials and information through which people can learn more about their state and their community.

If you are interested on books on Michigan, some of the titles in your local library for Juniors are:
"Hello Michigan" by Lowe; "Inga of Porcupine Mine" by Stone;
"Copper Country Adventure" by Brill; "Paddle-to-the-Sea" by Holling; "Mystery of the Gulls" by Whitney; "Granite Harbor" by Bird; "Michel's Island" by Hunt;
"My State and its Story" by Lewis; for adults: "Long Ships Passing" by Havighurst; "Lady Unafraid" by Nelson; "Land of the Crooked Tree" by Hedrick; "Lake Michigan" by Quafie; "Lake Huron" by Landon; "Lake Erie" by Hatcher; "Fire on the Wind" by Garth; "Holy Old Mackinaw" by Holbrook; the Paul Bunyan Stories and others.

YOUR MILK...

The whole world is talking peace and preparing for war. The truth is that they want peace if they get it on their own terms. More than one-half of all of the Nations income goes for war and law enforcement, to say nothing of what war does and leaves. In the first place, modern war is so vast and destructive that the loss on both sides is staggering, not only to the fighting men but to the civilian population as well. Whole families are torn apart and their homes and cities destroyed. Millions are killed and maimed and about that many more are half starved and under constant gunfire and air attacks.

In the last three thousand years about one thousand wars are recorded and it is yet to be proved that there was anything gained by any of them.
The loss is there as plain as day, though. If we keep on acting and living the way we do, it is going to take half of the people to keep the other half in order and make them behave. If all the nations on this earth made war on their own people and cleaned house and made them live a decent life we would have lasting peace tomorrow. In good homes you will find peace. Let's have more good homes.

When you want good milk, call Hunter's AuSable

Mrs. C. Stillwagon visited relatives in West Branch Sunday.

Mrs. Willard Harwood enjoyed Friday evening with Mrs. Ruth Caid and Pat and Margie and Cindy Harwood.

Little Miss Cindy Harwood celebrated her first birthday Saturday afternoon at her home. She entertained three little young ladies, Miss Janet Carlson, Miss Pamalee Spaulding, Miss Bethany Palsing. All four were seated at a little table and treated to ice cream and dainty birthday cakes. They certainly had a good time. Cindy gave each a little gift to take home and she received a lot of lovely gifts in honor of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spaulding spent a few days last week in Midland with their daughter's family, the William Winstons of that city. Their grandson, Stuart Winston, returned home with them for a little vacation.

Is he in business "to stay?"

When you buy a used car from a Ford Dealer, you're dealing with an established businessman who has a large investment and his good name at stake. We're here today, and we'll be here tomorrow!

Does he really know cars?

Ford Dealers are in the service business, too; work with cars day in and day out. We know how to spot trouble fast. And, our expert Ford mechanics have the equipment and "know-how" to handle any service job.

Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers. We get a lot of trade-ins. We keep them moving to free our working capital. That's why we offer used cars and trucks at rock-bottom prices.

Is he interested in you?

Remember—we Ford Dealers want to keep your good will because someday we hope to sell you a new car, or another used car, and we want your service business. It's just plain good business for us to play square with you.

Do his cars meet

A-1 standards?

IT'S WHERE YOU BUY IT THAT COUNTS!
